Standardized client method as a means of enriching skills-based courses

Project Number: 6000611

Principal Investigator: Dr. Rebecca ONG

Grant Type: TDG

Abstract:

The project's main component, the standardized client method (SCM) is designed to enrich and enhance the learning experience of students in the Postgraduate Certificate in Laws (PCLL).

The SCM will introduce lay individuals to the discipline. Specifically, the lay individuals after training will present standardized scenarios to students in the PCLL core course of Wills & Probate Practice and then assess the latter's communicative competence.
