GE2304
Innovation and Entrepreneurship for Young Professionals
青年人創新創業基礎
Dr. Hongyi SUN (孫洪義)
Mehsun@cityu.edu.hk
Why is GE2304 necessary

- Many great innovation ideas failed, why?

- Because the inventors do not consider the societal needs and managerial issues associated with the idea.

- This course will provide the knowledge on technological, managerial and social factors that are necessary for successful innovation and entrepreneurship by young people.
What will students learn?

- Understand the thinking of innovators and entrepreneurs.
- Work in multi-disciplinary team.
- Generate new product ideas from daily problems.
- Develop a good business plan for attracting investment.
How will students learn?

Students from engineering and sciences, management fields and social sciences to work together in their own mock companies and play the roles of CEO and various other managers to complete an innovation and entrepreneurship project.
